MASTER IN PUBLIC POLICY
We face increasingly difficult policy challenges.
More than ever, there is a pressing need for policy specialists who have a combined mastery of theoretical knowledge, technical skills and implementation abilities to solve these problems.

This is where our programme comes in.
PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The Master in Public Policy at the Jeffrey Cheah Institute on Southeast Asia prepares students to develop practical solutions to real-world policy problems in the region through a multi-disciplinary focus in economics, quantitative analysis and public policy management.

This Programme is formulated to equip graduates and mid-career professionals to develop greater technical capability in evidence-based policy analysis and to possess deeper understanding on fundamental concepts and contemporary issues on economic development, social inclusion, political governance and technological trends.
WHO WE ARE LOOKING FOR

Complex policy problems require multidisciplinary solutions.

As such, we seek to attract candidates from a diverse range of backgrounds.

We are looking for people who not only wish to take their careers to the next level, but want to make a difference in the world.
WHERE THIS PROGRAMME COULD TAKE YOU

With the skills accumulated in this programme, graduates will be equipped to address the policy challenges of rapidly-changing socioeconomic dimensions in the region.

The programme’s multidisciplinary emphasis on knowledge, analytic skills and management is highly transferable across sectors, issues and regions.

Graduates are able to work throughout the world in key roles in the public, private or non-profit sectors.
ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Candidates should have a Bachelor’s degree with a minimum CGPA of 2.75 in a related discipline.

The programme is designed for those with relevant working experience, however deserving fresh graduates will also be considered.
